

Weller Designs aiming to improve practice facilities as West Hill

West Hill Golf Club's standing as a top 100 course and one of the finest heathland courses in the UK has been further enhanced following the commencement of construction of a new practice facility.

The project includes the enlargement, re-profiling and drainage of the entire practice ground outfield and the construction of a new purpose-built covered practice range.

Surry based golf course architects Weller Designs were employed by West Hill from the start of the project, acting as designers, planning consultants and agents as well as project managers.

Commenting on the project, Bruce Weller said: "The need for high quality practice facilities that look good and can be well maintained even through the wettest of winters is very important to the standing of a golf course, so the development that is currently under construction at West Hill will be a superb asset for the golf club".

Weller Designs have also recently gained planning permission for a new driving range at Oadby Golf Club for the owners of Leicester Race Course and construction works are also underway to improve the driving range and course at Beacon Park Golf Club in Lancashire.
